If you're looking for something fun and free to do with the family this summer, then pack up a blanket and the family and friends to enjoy a movie under the stars at Infinity Park in Glendale. The increasingly popular 7th annual Monday Movie Madness Series continues in July and August with free movies on the jumbo screen at Infinity Park in the stadium. Fans who attended the June movie nights have enjoyed the addition of the winning short movie screening from Brigand Pictures and Infinity Park's "Indie Short Movie Contest" shown prior to the featured movies.

A panel of judges scored the short movie entries from around the world in seven different categories including acting, editing, direction, writing, cinematography, sound editing and a "wildcard" factor, which Ben Todd of Brigand Pictures describes as "that something about the film that is terrific, but doesn't necessarily fall into one of the judging categories."

For July 7, voters in the Viewer's Choice contest held in May selected the favorite classic movie Big starring Tom Hanks. Another classic favorite, Mary Poppins, chosen by voters will show on July 21. August 4 will be Willie Wonka and the Chocolate Factory with the last movie of the season, The Princess Bride showing on August 18 to close the series.

Fans can expect a fun-filled evening complete with prize giveaways, delicious food for sale on-site from Lil'Henry's including burgers and brats, Maui Wowi with frozen smoothies, coffee and Hawaiian shaved ice, and a Monday Movie Madness favorite, the Denver Cupcake Truck returns with delicious and movie-themed cupcakes.

Monday Movie Madness sponsors will also be on-site offering giveaways and fun activities for movie fans, including Exemplar Pinnacle Orthopedic Associates, Glendale YMCA, Whole Foods, Doctors Express, Core Power and Garbanzo. Additional sponsors include 1st Bank, Butler Rents, Alphagraphics Denver/Littleton, xfinity, Hyatt Place and Turner Construction.

The gates to the stadium at Infinity Park open at 7 p.m., so fans can find their favorite spot on the field before the movie starts at 8 p.m.
